1.0 INTRODUCTION

1.1 BACKGROUND

The Regional Administration Act, Number 19 of 1997 makes provision for restructuring Regional Administration (RA) for purposes of 'strengthening and promoting the local government system'. The existing organizational structure for Regional Administration (Secretariats) was approved by the Government in 2007.

The Regional Administration Act No. 19 of 1997 was enacted before the Local Government Reform Policy of 1998 and as a result was outdated before becoming fully operational. It does not cater adequately for the autonomy of Local Government Authorities as it assumed a mode, decentralization by deconcentration, which was soon to be superseded by the preferred approach of decentralization by devolution. It is largely for this reason that a review of the functions and organization structure has taken place. The structure being recommended will permit Regional Secretariats to carry out their responsibilities more effectively and in line with the Government's policy on Local Government Reform of 1998.

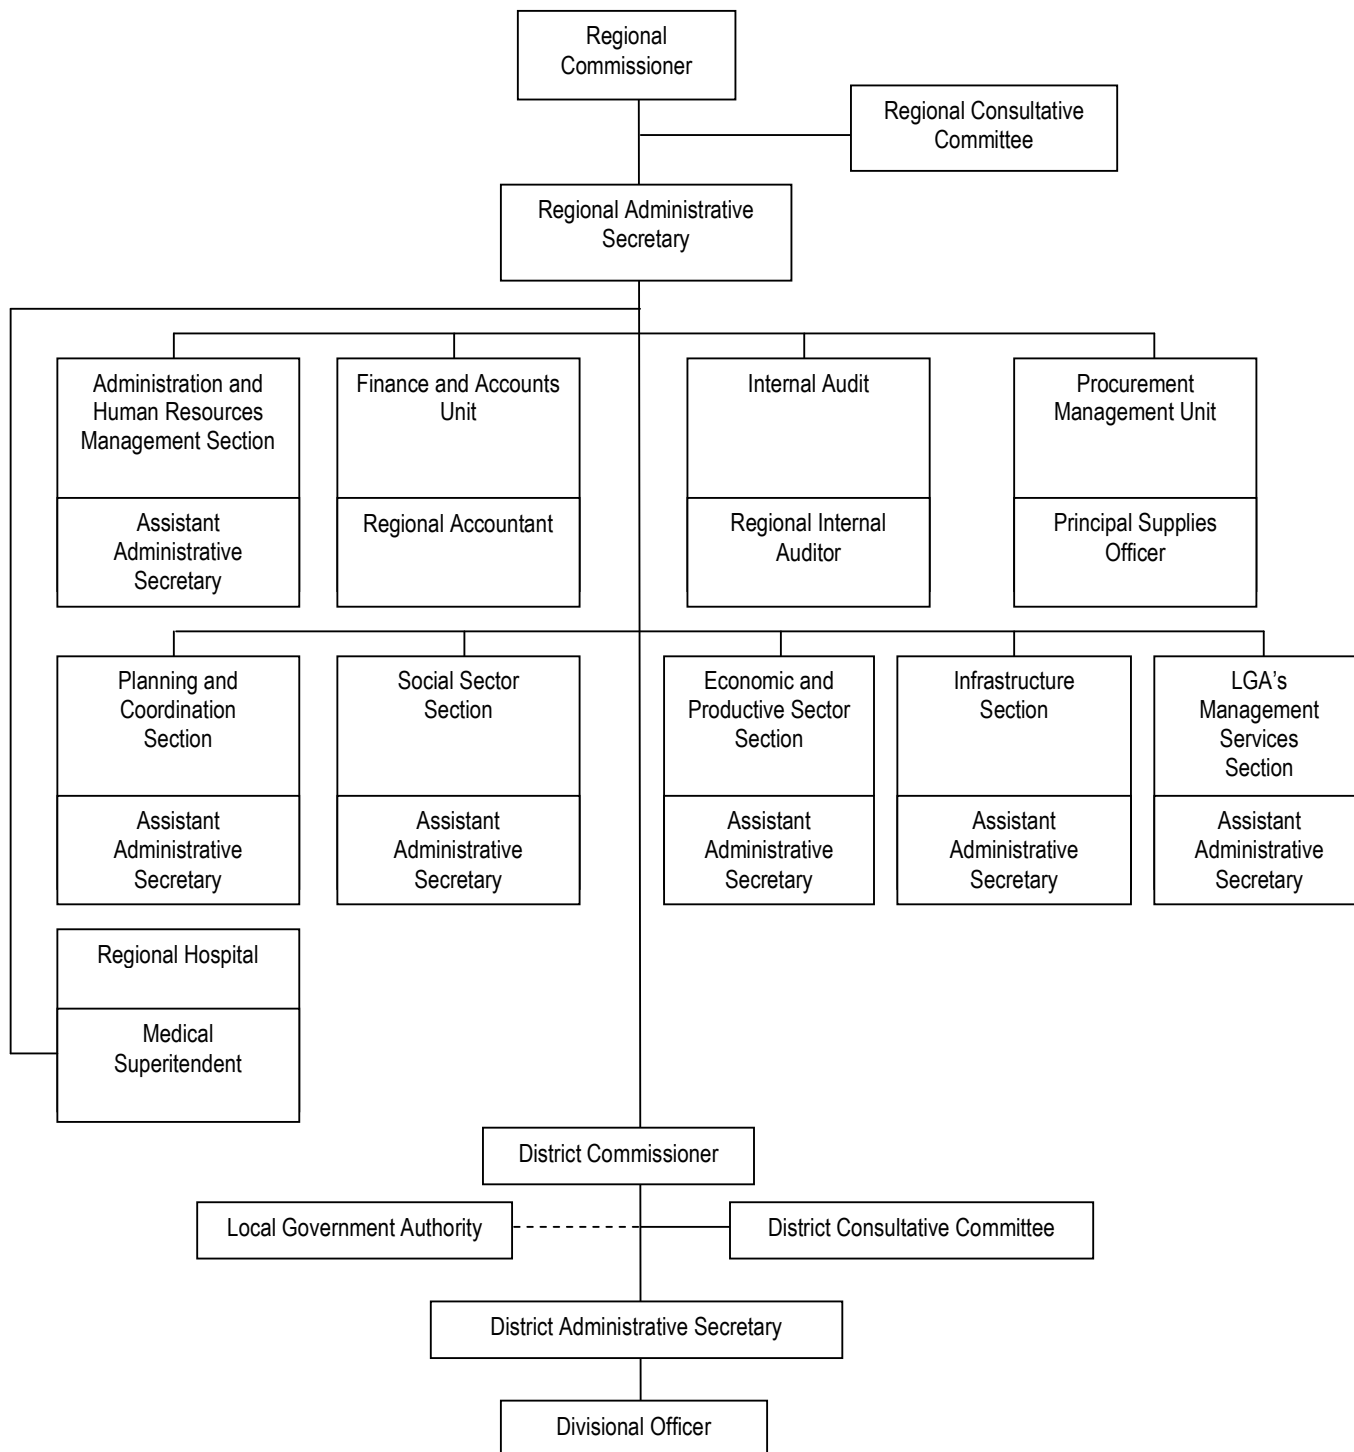

2.0 THE CURRENT FUNCTIONS AND STRUCTURE OF REGIONAL SECRETARIAT

The current organization structure consists of 6 Sections at Regional Offices and District Offices as follows (see Chart I):

- (i) Planning and Coordination Section;
- (ii) Social Sector Section;
- (iii) Economic and Productive Sector Section;
- (iv) Infrastructure Section;
- (v) Local Government Authorities Management Services Section;

- (vi) Administration and Human Resources Management Section;
- (vii) Finance and Accounts Unit;
- (viii) Internal Audit Unit;
- (ix) Procurement Management Unit;
- (x) Regional Hospital;
- (xi) District Commissioner's Office;
- (xii) District Administrative Secretary; and
- (xiii) Divisional Officers.

THE CURRENT ORGANIZATION STRUCTURE OF THE REGIONAL SECRETARIAT
REGIONAL COMMISSIONER'S OFFICE
(Approved by the President on 13th August, 2007)

3.0 RATIONALE FOR CHANGE

Implementation of the current RS structure has revealed shortcomings in some areas and missing of functions which are important in facilitating RS business. The RSs do not have functions such as legal; and Information, Communication and Technology services. These services are of necessity and are cross-cutting in all public institutions. There is a need therefore to establish such units in the RSs.

Based on the above observation we propose the following:

3.1 SPLITTING OF FUNCTIONS IN THE SOCIAL SECTOR SECTION

The mandate for coordination and management of secondary education has been devolved to Regions and LGAs. On the other hand the coordination and implementation of health service delivery is also a role of Regions and Local Government Authorities. Basing on the size and importance of these sectors, it is proposed to split the Social Sector Section into two fully fledged Sections namely: Health and Social Welfare Section and Education Sector Section so as to improve efficiency in service delivery in these sectors.

3.2 REMOVING THE WATER AND IRRIGATION FUNCTIONS FROM THE INFRASTRUCTURE SECTION

The composition of the Infrastructure Section is made up of infrastructure development, water and irrigation functions. The water sector is a social service oriented function with direct impact to the society; and irrigation is directly related to economic and productive sector under agriculture; while other functions are infrastructural in nature. In order to give water services its required emphasis, it is proposed to separate its functions from this Infrastructure Section and establish an independent section to be named as Water

Services Section. In addition, it is proposed to remove irrigation functions from the Section and merge its functions to Economic and productive Sectors Section.

3.3 ESTABLISH LEGAL SERVICES AND INFORMATION AND COMMUNICATION TECHNOLOGY UNITS

It is proposed to establish Legal Services Unit and ICT Unit to comply with the PIC instructions of having such services in every public service institution.

3.4 INCORPORATING LABOUR AND CULTURAL FUNCTIONS IN THE RS STRUCTURE

The RSs have Labour and Cultural Officers; however, their functions are not currently stipulated in functions of the RS. It is proposed therefore to incorporate labour functions in the LGAs Management Section and Cultural functions in the Education Sector Section.

3.5 PROPOSAL TO USE SCHEME OF SERVICE TITLES RATHER THAN 'TECHNICAL ADVISORS' WHO DO NOT HAVE A SPECIFIC SCHEME OF SERVICE

Technical Staff in the Regional Secretariat are termed as "Technical Advisors". This title does not fall under any title in the Schemes of Service. It is proposed to use titles as per the Schemes of Service for each respective cadre in the RSs.

3.6 INCORPORATING INFORMATION, EDUCATION AND COMMUNICATION FUNCTION IN THE RS STRUCTURE

In the current Structure there is no IEC function. However, this function has been deemed important to facilitate RS in raising awareness to the public of which can eventually facilitate delivery of quality services. It is therefore proposed to incorporate such function in the Administration and Human Resources Management Section.

4.0 THE APPROVED ORGANISATION STRUCTURE AND FUNCTIONS OF THE REGIONAL SECRETARIAT

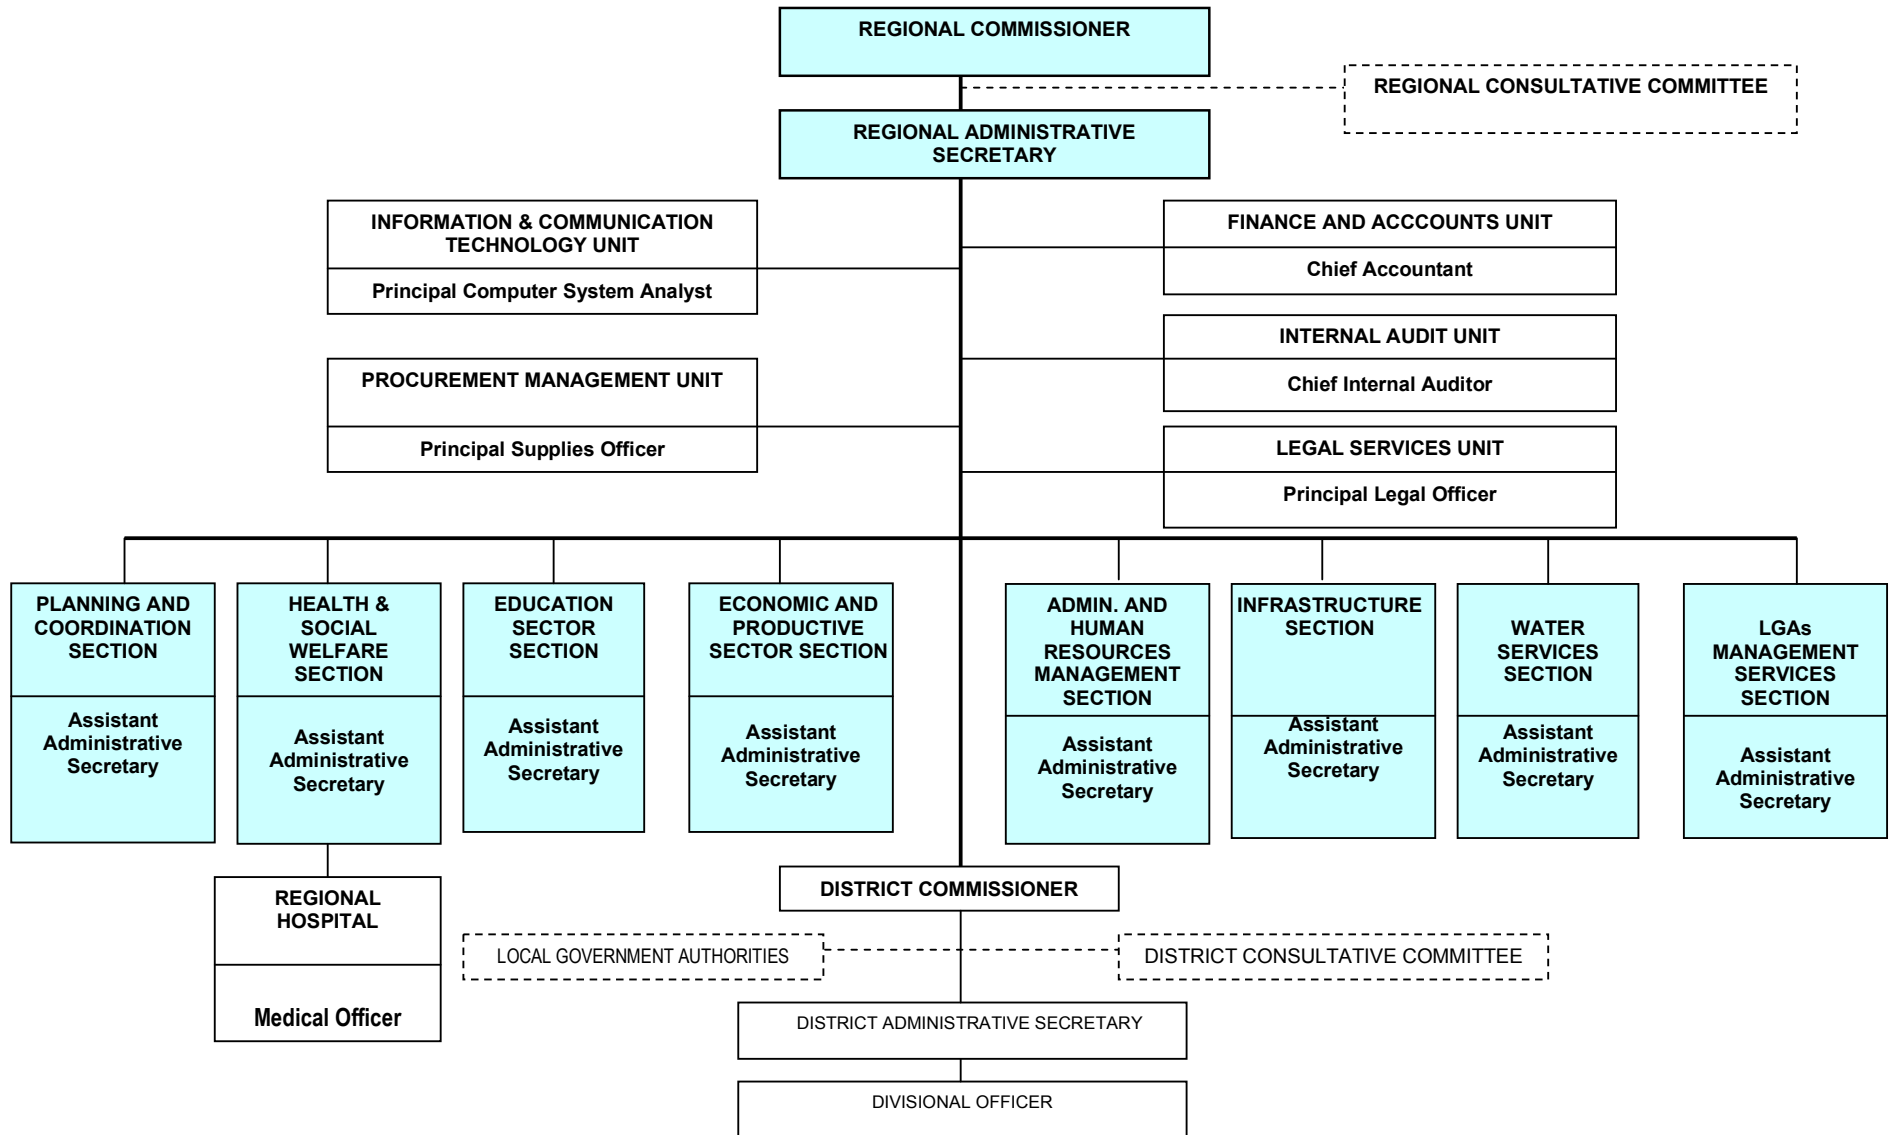

4.1 STRUCTURE

The approved Organization Structure consists of eight Sections and five Units at Regional Offices. Moreover, there will be District Offices. The structure will require 66 core staff, 80 support staff, 18 staff for the District Commissioner's Office and 5 staff for Division (see Chart II, Annex A and Annex B):
